

FAMOUS CLUB OF BLIND MEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR 1922

Herman Wilson and Smalley Crosby, Mishawaka, Become Officers of Optimist Club.

H. W. Slater of South Bend was elected president of the Optimist club yesterday afternoon at its third annual meeting, held in the home of Frank Reese, 511 Forest av.

Smalley Crosby of the club and Herman Wilson, 887 E. Third st., elected secretary.

Miss Pearl McGibbon of Indianapolis, field industrial teacher of the state board of Industrial Aid for the blind, was a guest of honor.

Twelve members of the club attended the meeting. Following the business session and election of officers the club enjoyed a social program. Mrs. Wallace Slocum rendered a number of solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Herman Wilson.

Refreshments were served. The Optimist club is composed of blind persons in Mishawaka, and was organized three years ago. The club is purely a Mishawaka organization, though it has some members from South Bend.

Its members are all self-supporting and successful men and women who have created happiness and contentment from out of what might have been tragedy in many cases.

Herman Wilson, secretary, is the organizer of the First M. E. church and is a well known musician. He has given a number of recitals and is looked upon as a coming musical genius.

Frank Reese is another musician and is an expert at tuning pianos. The Misses Myrtle and Mae Swanger, also members of the club, are accomplished musicians.

SPARKS FROM CHIMNEY CAUSE $1,000 FIRE

Fire caused by sparks from a chimney resulted in $1,000 damages to the residence of Mrs. Sarah Elme, 552 Lincoln way W., yesterday afternoon. The entire attic of the house was in flames before the blaze was discovered and the alarm sent in. Both the Central and the North Side departments responded to the call and spent one hour in fighting the fire. The damage was covered by insurance.

The Central department made the run to the Mishawaka Woolen Manufacturing company plant Tuesday morning to answer a false alarm. The Woolen company had installed a new fire box and had not notified the department.

TEMPLE

"Life's Darn Funny" is the expressive title of the comedy drama in which Viola Dana is starring and which is now showing at the Temple theater.

The screen production is a camera version of Christine Jones Slag's Saturday Evening Post story, "Care-takers Within." It was scenarized by Molly Parro and Arthur D. Ripley.

Dallas Fitzgerald, who directed Miss Dana to her four more recent productions, supervised here work. Mr. Fitzgerald's work has been closely associated with that of the vivacious Viola through his mastery of direction of "Blackmail," "Under-18," "The Oldshore Pirate," and "Puppets of Fate."

Miss Dana enacts the role of a struggling little violinist who, after many years of trials and tribulations, sacrifices her ambition to attain the pinnacle of success in the music world in order to find happiness in another way.

"Life's Darn Funny" is Miss Dana's first picture since her return from New York, where she spent six weeks purchasing new costumes and reviewing all the new Broadway shows, "Home Stuff," an original story of Frank Daze and Agnes Johnston, written especially for Miss Dana, was her last picture before going East.

LINCOLN

When the producers of "The Lurking Peril," the new serial coming to the Lincoln theater soon, were searching for two stars whose reputations were big enough and who had ability to play the parts, they decided that Anne Luther and George Larkin were two of the greatest serial performers in the motion picture business. After considerable difficulty these two stars were secured and they will be seen in this serial at the Lincoln. Their work has never been equalled. They are both daring performers and because of their athletic tendencies are able to perform the most dangerous and daring feats asked of them by the director. The success of a serial depends entirely on the performance of the stars.

RELATES STORY OF CAPTURE BY 'REBS' JUST 57 YEARS AGO

Dr. A. A. Lowry, Civil War Vet, Tells How He Was Taken to Libby Prison.

Just 57 years ago today, Dr. A. A. Lowry, who lives at 124 W. Sixth st., was taken prisoner by the Confederate forces during an engagement at Beverly, Va.

Dr. Lowry, who is hale and hearty, tells a graphic story of his capture and of the privations and sufferings endured at the hands of the "Johnny Rebs" enroute to and in Libby Prison.

In relating his experiences Dr. Lowry said: "On the morning of Jan. 11, 1865, my regiment, the 34th Ohio volunteer infantry, with two companies of the 5th Ohio cavalry, about 800 in all, were surrounded by 4,000 rebel cavalry about 2 o'clock in a blinding snowstorm. We fought bravely to cut our way through, but had to surrender to an overpowering rebel force.

"We were stripped of our good clothes and compelled to march 150 miles through snow and mud over the Allegheny mountains to Stanton, Va.

"Many of our boys were nearly barefooted. Five hundred of us were taken. I froze my feet. At Stanton we were loaded in hog and cattle cars with a little straw to lie on and guarded by two rebel soldiers with crossed bayonets. We lay all night.

"Next morning we arrived at Richmond. We were unloaded and marched up to the famous old Libby prison. We were held there for 40 days and nights among the lice and vermin. We had nothing to eat but some rotten beans, soup and small piece of mule meat twice a day.

"When we walked across the floor the body lice would crack under our shoes. When the word for parole came the men were so overjoyed that they fell on their knees and cried like children.

"Jesse H. Gaines, also of this city, was in Libby Prison when I went there and I was with him the day we were paroled. He was in the prison for six months. Following our release we were given a 30-day furlough in which to recuperate. While I was at home that noble president, Abraham Lincoln, was killed and on the 8th of May, 1865, Gen. Lee surrendered his great army to Gen. Grant."

Mr. Lowry enlisted Aug. 8, 1861, and was a member of Company I, 34th Ohio volunteer infantry, and served four years, being discharged July 27, 1865. He took part in 42 engagements and was twice wounded.
